NATIONAL ANTHEM

Nigeria, we hail thee,
Our own dear native land,
Though tribe and tongue may differ,
In brotherhood we stand,
Nigerians all, and proud to serve
Our sovereign Motherland.

Our flag shall be a symbol
That truth and justice reign,
In peace or battle honourd
And this we count as gain,
To hand on to our children
A banner without stain.

O God of all creation,
Grant this our one request,
Help us to build a nation
Where no man is oppressed,
And so with peace and plenty
Nigeria may be blessed.

THE NATIONAL PLEDGE

I Pledge to Nigeria, my country
To be faithful, loyal and honest
To serve Nigeria with all my strength
To defend her unity
And uphold her hounor and glory
So help me God.

GOODWILL MESSAGE FROM THE NATIONAL PRESIDENT'S (IPU) DESK

I wish to congratulate every sons and daughters of Iloro Ekiti, and in particular those of you from Àdo zone 1 on this occasion of your Launching of your Annual Magazine for the year 2025.
I am particularly happy for you because, one thing is common in you. The availability of this thing in your midst makes it possible for you to come together about this time to think of assembling various thoughts into a book/Magazine. That thing is LOVE AND UNITY.
These two words are so powerful in any gathering and association. Where they are not available, there are chaos and absence of peace, altogether.

I salute your togetherness and Love amongst you, that propelled you to stay together, even, when most Union and Communities are in disarray for lack of it.
I solemnly pray that the devil will not find its way into your midst as you journey together, hereafter.

My wish for you is this: Kindly translate and extend this LOVE AND UNITY into our larger Community, our Cradle (Iloro Ekiti).
Let us allow Peace by paving way for Love and Unity.
Let's concentrate only on those areas that Unite us and jettisions only those things that are capable of dividing us.
The development of our town ,OUR CRADLE (ILORO EKITI), should be of uptmost priority now, rather than those things that are un important.

The efforts of our past Heroes in the town should not be wasted by the selfishness of a few.
I, once again greet you all and wishing you a Merry Christmas and Happy and Prosperous , Peaceful and More United New Year in advance.(2026).

'WOLE ABEREIFA,
National President (IPU).

GOODWILL MESSAGE BY THE CHAIRMAN ILORO EKITI PROGRESSIVE UNION ADO-EKITI BRANCH

It gives me great pleasure to felicitate with the Iloro Ekit Progressive Union, Ado-Ekiti Zone 1 on the special occasion which involved

1) Launching of the branch magazine
2) Award of excellence to deserving individuals
3) Annual get together party.

The need for more inclusiveness and the fact that Ado-Ekiti has become a big city makes the idea of a single meeting point expensive and inconvenient in view of the prevailing economy situation in the country. It is this realization that led to the decision to break Ado-Ekiti into zones so that people can attend meetings at zones newest to them. Ado-Ekiti Zone 1 were conceived to cater for the people along Iworoko Road axis and our teaming youths to enable them contribute their quota to the development at the community.

I want to appropriate the management of De-link Hotel for providing us with a permanent meeting venue which had gone a long way in ensuring the success recorded so far especially in attendance. It is gratifying to note that the zone since its inception about 3 years ago has made giant strides and contributions to the development of the town and creating awareness and unity even in the face of the difficulties affecting the community.

Some of the achievements are

1) Initiating and organizing Iloro-Ekiti National Day of Prayer 2024 in conjunction with the National Executive of IPU and Iloro Ekiti Pastors Forum
2) Launching of the 2025 almanac which showcase its membership and further created awareness for the IPU even when the union was facing its difficulties.
3) Launching of the maiden edition of the Magazine together with the Award Dinner/End of the Year Party
4) A member of the Zone is a national officer of Iloro Progressive Union worldwide

I am indeed very happy to be associated with this set of progressive minded youths and elders and pray that the Union will continue to grow from strength to strength. I wish you a very successful Launching and Award/ Dinner party

God bless you all and have a wonderful time

Ibitoye Adeyiola

Branch Chairman

IPU ADO EKITI ZONE 1 CHAIRMAN'S DESK

I am honored to stand before you today as we gather to celebrate a momentous occasion - the launch of our maiden magazine, a night of recognition, and the culmination of another remarkable year!

As we launch this magazine, we are not just unveiling a publication, but a platform for our community's stories, ideas, and voices. We honor our past, celebrate our present, and inspire our future.

We also come together to recognize and reward outstanding individuals who have made significant contributions to our community. Your efforts have not gone unnoticed, and we are proud to celebrate your achievements.

As we bid farewell to another year, I extend my heartfelt gratitude to each of you for your unwavering support and dedication. Let us look forward to a brighter, more prosperous future, filled with hope and promise. I appreciate every member of IPU Zone 1, Ado Ekiti, and all sons and daughters of Iloro Ekiti. I must not forget to thank our Mother branch, IPU Ado branch, for always supporting our aspirations.

Thank you, and enjoy the celebrations!

Asorona Joseph Taiwo
Chairman IPU Ado Ekiti Zone 1

THE COSMOPOLITANISM OF ILORO EKITI LOCATION

Iloro Ekiti is a city founded on hills overlooking several settlements In Ekiti Kwara and Osun States. There are four major and two minor with several foot paths that serves as entrance to the town. The four major ae: From Ìpòtí, Ijurin, Ayetoro,Osun while the minors are the ones that leads to Ofale and Usi Ekiti.

Iloro Ekiti like any other Yoruba towns and villages has direct migration history from Ile - Ìfẹ. Most of streets and deities found at Ile - Ife are found in Iloro Ekiti.

The former name of the town was ỌRỌ̀.

Iloro Ekiti had been a commercial nerve centre for ages before civilization sets in. The wars between Ibadan and Ilorin really boosts social life and interaction between our citizens and outsiders because Iloro is a town between Ilorin, Okemesi and Ido Faboro. This location gave us attention as the Ibadan/Oyo power are bent on conquering Awtun (Ọtun) Ekiti and the Ekiti warriors truncated their mission.

This visitors found comfort and dependable security in iloro that she serves as commercial nerve centre of Ijero kingdom.

In the 1970s to early 1990s ,Iloro boasts of more than four standard stop and buy merchandize (mini super markets) and several other appending petty shops such as Jimoh Elere at the garage square, Babalayo ati Odo apo, Irelayemi at Oke Bola,Abose Oniire ati Ìròkò méjì and Eye Kore at Isalu.

There are several other appendage community stores like Eye blue at Isalu, Eye Meri at Aafin, Baba ikun behind town hall, Mama Folayegbe at ijemu. And several others that time had kept in the archive

Talking of merchandize, Mama Adeleye was at isalu,and several others .baba Falade had bakery, Baba Oladimeji has printing press at Isalu, Baba Pius at Oke Owa and his friend Baba Àjàyí Edigbe Ile Okun has rice mills. Baba Ojo Elero has steady grinding machine to accommodate corn, palm kernel grinding to ease women from Ijurin and iloro from using hands to grind their corn

The women of Ile Abe Iya specializes in adi making. When it comes to entertainment AP and his Ogbele music Imore Iresi and Irewolu are readily at hand.

Different trades identify themselves and have common ftont.

In these genre Eyeojo , Eyeoja Eyesanjo and several others I can't remember to mention sells palm wine (Egbe elemu) in commercial quantity.

Mrs Olatunbosun (eyemakanju) and several others held sway as goat , sheep and animal sellers. Mrs Adeleye Adeosun of ile awo and several others sells chicken (awọn Aladiye). There are Yam sellers Association , Tailor Association,, Bricklayers association, Carpenters association, Transporters association where you have the likes of Jimmy Oloye, Omo Pupa,Alhaji Iyo, Sunday Gold, Ori oka, JT, Odeku, and several others making us proud. Teachers are in abundant, Baba Da Silva, Mr Awolu Mr Faleye Mr Olofinlade, Mr Abioye Omoleye, Mr Àjàyí Noble Olowolayemo, and several others. Barbers are in tune from Emiloju, Adaraniwon at Isalu, Olorunwa behind CMS etc Artists in Iloro were consulted around 5050 artist idofin, Emiloju, Idofin and Mr Olu Abe who later became the store keeper of Iloro Community High School. Festivals in Iloro always drew audience from other town. Talking about philanthropist Chief Kayode Adebo Chief J. T. Amoo Chief Baba Egbe Jeje etc are there. This help consolidate and consummate relationship with others.

Twice the town was recognized to be a local government headquarter to break away from the subtle hold down by Ijero twice it was thwarted untill the third attempt by Governor Fayemi that an LCDA was finally given to elevate the town.

Iloro social status was always on high social pedestals. Arguably, hardly can you find a compound without people of other towns living . Either through marriage or job. So also social connections from other tribes were rive. You see different tribes commercializing their trades and intelligences during the market days which runs twice within 5 days. Adodo market day is a beehive of activities with all people in neighbouring towns and faraway trading . Ereyi market day is to stock up daily needs within the locals

When it comes to divinity, Chief Fowobaje, Chief Oluwo Iyanda, Chief Fasewa Aro, Chief Abereifa , Chief Familusi etc are into Ifa divination. We can't but acceed the success of all these achievements to a man of destiny. Oba (Dr) Ayoola Arowolo who meticulously tutored the town to a blissful millennium.

ILORO-EKITI PROGRESSIVE UNION (IPU): THE JOURNEY SO FAR

The labours of our Heroes past and present, shall never be in vain!

Among the steps taken to promote modernization in Iloro-Ekiti was the formation of a formidable Union, comprising all Sons and Daughters of the Town for the purpose of coming together to ruminate on the progress of the Town.

The idea to form a Union then referred to as "EGBE OMO ORO" was first mooted in 1945 by Late Chief S. V. Popoola. In the early 1960s, as a result of the rebirth of the Town, the Union, then renamed "ILORO-EKITI PROGRESSIVE UNION (IPU)," received a new impetus as the National Body was inaugurated.

Specifically, on the 5th of December, 1968, a Conference was held under the leadership of Late Chief Oladunjoye Ogungbola (a.k.a. Olorun-ju-gbeyin suan) of Ilesa fame, which really brought the activities of the Union into limelight. It was after this Conference that Branches of the Union began to spring up in some major towns in the Country to enable the Sons and Daughters of Iloro-Ekiti all over the World contribute their quota to the progress of the Town. Today, it is worth mentioning that most of these IPU Branches are still waxing stronger.

It is pertinent to note here, that the first set of the National Executive Members of the Union in 1968 comprised His Royal Highness, the then Oluloro of Iloro-Ekiti, late Oba (Dr.) Michael Ayoola Arowolo II as Patron; late Chief Oladunjoye Ogungbola as President-General; late Pa S. V. Popoola as Vice President; late Prince S. B. Aje as Secretary; late Chief O. I. Balogun as Social/Publicity Secretary; late Chief James Ala Faleye - one time Asaaju of Iloro-Ekiti and late Bishop J. Taiwo Omoleye as Auditors. Late Pa John Ogundele was then the Chairman Home Branch, which is now being referred to as Iloro Development Council (IDC); and late Chief T. Amoo Dada (a.k.a. Olorunsogo) of Osogbo fame was made the Chairman Building/Project Committee that later started the building of a modern hall, now referred to as Iloro Ultra-Modern Town Hall and other notable physical structures in the Town.

It is also on record that through the activities of this Union nationwide, a lot of progress and successes were achieved for the Town in terms of provision of infrastructural facilities. These significant infrastructures include the Ayetoro/Iloro High School jointly established with Ayetoro-Ekiti; the Iloro Community High School; the Post Office; the Community Comprehensive Health Centre; the Community's Electrification Project; Pipe-borne Water Project, the Town Hall; a new Oba's Palace; a new Court Hall, a new Bank-Building now being occupied by NIRSAL Bank; The Police Post; the Lock-up and Open Market Stalls at new Adodo Market; the Doctors' Quarter at the Comprehensive Health Centre; the block of Male & Female Medical Wards at the Comprehensive Health Centre; the Iloro-Ekiti Mutual Health Hospital (NHIS Provider) and a host of others.

It is noteworthy that our collective vision, devotion, loyalty, selfless services and doggedness have made the Iloro-Ekiti Progressive Union one of the most viable, vibrant and resourceful among her contemporaries in Ekiti State and even in the Country and the status of our Community had never remained the same.

Significantly, all the achievements enumerated above were recorded during the tenures of the following indefatigable leaders who were one time or the other National Presidents of the Union in succession:

- Late Chief Oladunjoye Ogungbola - 1968 - 1974
- Late Chief T. Dada Amoo - 1974 - 1980
- Late Chief Johnson Afolayan - 1980 - 1982
- Late Chief E. A. Ogundele (Jaleyemi)-1982 - 1991
- Late Justice M. A. Borisade - 1991 - 1997
- Late Chief Kayode Adebo. - 1997 - 2000
- Engr. (Chief) Bisi Aje (JP) - 2000 - 2003
- High Chief S. A. Adeyiola - 2003 - 2007
- Prince Olu Aje - 2007- 2009 (Interim)
- Chief Adaralegbe Ogunmola (JP) - 2009 - 2022
- Chief J. O. Fajuyi (Araga) - 2022 - 2025
- Mr. Wole Abereifa - Aug. 2025 to-date.

Among the notable personalities in the history of the Union are the past and present Scribes of the Union, including the late Chief Kunle Dada, late Chief I. S. Babalola, Chief M. I. Adeyiola (Alakowe), late Mr. Sola Adaralegbe, Mr. E. A. Fajuyigbe, Mr. Peter Remi Ogundele and the present Scribe - Pastor A. S. Akanni. Other prominent figures in the history of the Union include: the late Hon. (Chief) Ola Olofinlade – a long term serving Treasurer of the Union, late Otunba J. O. Ayorinde - the Asaaju of Iloro-Ekiti and a long term serving Chairman of Iloro Development Council (IDC), Chief Bioye Omoleye – the erstwhile Chairman of Iloro Development Council (IDC). We can never overlook the contributions of the Union's past and present Special Advisers, Patrons and Matrons. Such revered persons include Hon. (Chief) Mike Omoleye, High Chief Alice Egunjobi (Eyebaasa), late Chief Jide Ogundipe, late Chief S. A. Olulade, late Chief Bayo Balogun (The late Odofin) and late Chief (Mrs.) Theresa Owoseeni-Badiah. All the past and present Chiefs of the Community (Men & Women), all the past and present Members of the National Executive Council of the Union as well as all the past and present Chairmen and Secretaries of all the IPU Branches, and a host of others too numerous to mention here, are equally recognized and commended for their various progressive roles played individually and collectively.

All the aforementioned, all Iloro-Ekiti viable Clubs and Associations as well as other individuals have really spent their time and all what they have for the progress of the Union and that of the entire Iloro-Ekiti Community. We salute you all, we salute your courage, and we salute your sense of patriotism. We fervently pray that Lord Almighty who has, in His infinite Mercies, ordained all of us to serve Iloro-Ekiti in our various capacities, shall continue to be with us and it shall be well with every one of us and all ours, in Jesus Name. May the souls of our departed heroes continue to rest in perfect peace.

Arise, O Compatriots! In the spirit of our Forefathers, let us continue to keep the ball rolling. Iloro-Ekiti Progressive Union is again making this clarion call to all her Members (all Sons and Daughters of Iloro-Ekiti at home and in the diasporas) to step up their involvements in all the progressive activities of the Community to the best of their abilities. Let us use our concerted efforts in building a strong and virile Progressive Union in order to continue to develop our dear Iloro-Ekiti Community to an enviable height, so that the labours of our Heroes past and present shall never be in vain.

HISTORY OF IPU ZONE 1, ADO-EKITI

The Iloro Progressive Union (IPU) in Ado-Ekiti has experienced significant growth over the years, largely due to the rapid urbanization of Ado-Ekiti. As the city expanded, Iloro indigenes gradually spread across new and developing areas—building and renting homes in different parts of the metropolis. This expansion, though positive, created new challenges for the union in the area of accessibility, participation, and sustained development.

Reason for the Subdivision of IPU in Ado-Ekiti

Under the leadership of Mr. Adeyiola Ibitoye, the central leadership of IPU Ado-Ekiti observed a steady decline in meeting attendance across the existing structure. Members often struggled to transport themselves to distant meeting venues, and with the increasing size of Ado-Ekiti, traveling long distances became inconvenient for many.

In their wisdom, the elders and leadership proposed the subdivision of IPU Ado-Ekiti into four zones. This restructuring aimed to bring the union closer to members, enhance participation, strengthen unity, and ensure that the developmental vision of Iloro community continued seamlessly.

During their assessment, the leadership noted a high concentration of Iloro youths and families around the Adebayo–Adehun axis of Ado-Ekiti. This made the area the most suitable location for establishing the first IPU Zone in Ado-Ekiti.

Inauguration of IPU Zone 1

IPU Zone 1 was officially inaugurated on 10th March 2024 as IPU Adehun/Adebayo Zone, Ado-Ekiti.

The inauguration was held at the office of Mr. Asorona Furniture, located in Adehun, Ado-Ekiti. The meeting was presided over by Mr. Taiwo Asorona, who was subsequently appointed as the Pioneer Chairman of the zone.

Shortly after its formation, the meeting venue was moved to Delink Motel, Adehun, Ado-Ekiti, to provide a more conducive environment for gatherings. Following the official visit of the IPU Ado Central Chairman, Mr. Adeyiola Ibitoye, the name of the body was formally harmonized and approved as IPU Zone 1, Ado-Ekiti.

Attendance at the Inaugural Meeting

The inaugural meeting of IPU Zone 1 on 10th March 2024 was attended by committed and distinguished members from across various compounds in Iloro-Ekiti. The attendees were:

1. Mr. Michael Adaran – Isalu
2. Mr. Bamisaye Segun – Isalu
3. Mr. Idowu Babatunde – Ijemu
4. Mr. Aina Tope – Oke Bola
5. Mr. Sunday Akomolafe – Isalu

CITATION OF THE AKINTAYO ADARALEGBE

Modest Roots to Market Leadership & Founder & CEO of T-Pumpy Concepts Limited

AWARDEE

In Nigeria's evolving real estate sector where credibility is as valuable as capital Adaralegbe Akintayo stands out as a business leader whose success is built on integrity, foresight, and inclusive growth. As the Founder and Chief Executive Officer of T-Pumpy Concepts Limited, he has carved a reputation as a property developer driven not only by profit, but by purpose and long term value creation.

Born on May 29, 1982, Akintayo Adaralegbe is a native of Iloro Ekiti in Ekiti State, though he was born and raised in Ilorin, Kwara State. He attended his preliminary and secondary education in Iloro, a community that continues to shape his values and sense of responsibility. His upbringing was modest, yet rich in lessons of resilience, discipline, and enterprise.

He was born into the family of Mr. Sunday Adaralegbe and Mrs. Iyabode Adaralegbe. His father, a professional photographer popularly known as Humble Photo, earned a living through his craft, while his mother worked with the Federal Housing Authority (FHA) and complemented her income with various entrepreneurial activities. From his parents, Akintayo learned the dignity of labour, the importance of self-reliance, and the value of perseverance.

Rather than allowing the economic limitations of his early life to define him, Akintayo chose to be motivated by them. Deeply influenced by his mother's entrepreneurial spirit, he embraced business as a tool for empowerment and independence. Her passing, when he was still below the age of 30, further strengthened his resolve to succeed and to honour her legacy through impact driven initiatives.

His entrepreneurial journey began early. While still in tertiary education, Akintayo engaged in various legitimate ventures to support himself and gain practical business experience. He worked as a thrift collector, ventured into photography, and later built a thriving recharge card business in Lugbe, Abuja. Recognising the importance of structure and professionalism, he formally registered his business in 2010, giving birth to T-Pumpy Concepts Limited. His business instincts were further sharpened during his National Youth Service Corps (NYSC) year in Ebonyi State.

Guided by the principle that effective marketing and customer value are central to business success, Akintayo adopted competitive pricing and excellent service delivery during the era of GSM booths, when mobile phones were still largely inaccessible. His outlet quickly became a major customer hub, laying a strong financial and strategic foundation for future expansion.

With time and strategic foresight, Akintayo transitioned into the real estate sector, a move that would redefine his career and public profile. In a highly competitive market, he distinguished himself by prioritising affordable, transparent, and accessible land and housing solutions. Through T-Pumpy Concepts Limited, he has helped individuals across different income levels achieve the dream of property ownership.

Today, T-Pumpy Concepts Limited maintains a strong operational presence in Abuja, Ekiti State, and Oyo State, with ongoing expansion into Ogun State and other strategic locations across the country. Under Akintayo's leadership, the company has earned widespread trust for its ethical practices, customer-focused approach, and commitment to delivering genuine value.

His contributions to real estate and infrastructural development have received national recognition. In 2021, he was honoured as “Real Estate Personality of the Year” at the Global Excellence Recognition Awards, in acknowledgement of his role in advancing Nigeria's built environment and promoting professionalism within the property sector. Further affirming his impact beyond business, Akintayo has been conferred with prestigious academic honours. He received an Honorary Doctorate Degree from Osun State Polytechnic, Esa-Oke, in 2020, in recognition of his entrepreneurial excellence and contributions to economic development. Most recently, in 2024, Caleb University also awarded him an Honorary Doctorate Degree, honouring his leadership, innovation, and positive influence within the real estate industry and the wider society.

Community Service and Social Impact

Beyond business success, Adaralegbe Akintayo is deeply committed to community development and social responsibility, particularly in his hometown of Iloro Ekiti. His approach to philanthropy is rooted in sustainability, remembrance, and empowerment.

In memory of his late mother, Mrs. Iyabode Adaralegbe, he sponsors an annual scholarship scheme for students from Iloro Ekiti, providing educational support to indigent but academically promising students. The initiative reflects his belief that education remains one of the most powerful tools for breaking the cycle of poverty.

Employment generation also forms a key part of his community impact. Through T-Pumpy Concepts Limited, Akintayo has employed several indigenes of Iloro Ekiti across the company's offices nationwide, deliberately creating opportunities for community inclusion and economic participation.

In addition, he has consistently supported developmental projects in Iloro Ekiti, making general donations toward community infrastructure, social initiatives, and local development efforts. These contributions underscore his conviction that success is most meaningful when it uplifts others.

Looking ahead, Akintayo Adaralegbe remains focused on growth, innovation, and deeper impact. With plans to expand fully into construction, he aims to transform T-Pumpy Concepts Limited into a fully integrated real estate and infrastructure development company, while continuing to uphold the values of transparency, affordability, and social responsibility.

Adaralegbe Akintayo's story is one of purpose driven leadership a narrative that demonstrates how vision, integrity, and determination can shape not only a successful business, but also thriving communities. From humble beginnings to national relevance, he exemplifies a new generation of Nigerian entrepreneurs committed to building lasting value beyond bricks and mortar.

BIOGRAPHY OF ASHIWAJU JAMES FALEYE ALA

Chief James Faleye Ala, born in 1923 to Mr. Dada Ala of Ala Family in Iloro-Ekiti and Mrs. Aderinola Omikunle of the Omikunle family in Ise-Ekiti, lived a life defined by humility, service, and an unwavering devotion to the progress of his hometown. From his earliest years, he was shaped by the strong moral foundations of his family. His father, Dada Ala, was known for his uprightness and quiet strength, while his mother, Aderinola, embodied resilience, industry, and compassion. Growing up among four siblings, he was raised in an atmosphere that valued integrity, hard work, and respect for community. Although the family lived modestly, their home overflowed with the virtues that would later guide his leadership and personal philosophy.

His pursuit of education began with the Standard Six certification—an important educational milestone in the era of limited formal schooling. Driven by a natural love for knowledge and a clear sense of purpose, he proceeded to the Teacher Training School, where he earned the Teacher Training Grade III Certificate. This qualification launched him into the prestigious teaching profession, yet he refused to be complacent. In his determination to deepen his knowledge and improve his professional competence, he enrolled in ASOSO, a higher-level teacher training program designed for teachers seeking advanced mastery. This progressive academic journey made him a trained educators of his generation and demonstrated a personal belief in lifelong learning.

Armed with solid training and a genuine calling to nurture young minds, Chief James distinguished himself in his career as a teacher. He became known for his discipline, fairness, and ability to shape not only the academic lives of his pupils but their moral character as well. His classroom became a place where students felt guided, challenged, and supported. Over time, his exceptional leadership qualities lifted him to the position of Headmaster, where he presided over schools with firmness and vision. Under his guidance, pupils improved academically, teachers worked with renewed motivation, and the school environment reflected order, respect, and diligence. Many who passed through his hands continued to remember him with admiration, often crediting him for laying the foundation upon which their later successes were built.

While he excelled in the educational field, his commitment to community development was equally profound. Chief James became an active and respected figure in the Iloro Progressive Union (IPU)—the most influential development body responsible for the advancement of Iloro-Ekiti. His service extended to serving at the national level of the union. To be entrusted with responsibilities at that level required exceptional track record of meaningful contributions. As an IPU leader, he helped shape development strategies, mobilize the community for projects, promote social welfare initiatives, and foster unity among Iloro indigenes at home and in the diaspora. His dedication demonstrated his belief that true community progress rests on collective effort guided by honest leadership.

It was this relentless commitment to service, combined with his wisdom and exemplary conduct, that led Iloro-Ekiti to bestow upon him a historic honor—the title of Ashiwaju, making him the pioneer holder of that distinguished position. The title, which signifies "the one who leads," fit him naturally. He redefined leadership by combining firmness with humility, calmness with authority, and tradition with progressive thinking. As Ashiwaju, he became a respected counselor in community affairs, a mediator in conflicts, a unifying force in town matters, and an advocate for education and discipline among the youth. His presence brought stability, and his voice carried weight in both family and communal decisions. In many ways, he became the moral compass of Iloro-Ekiti.

His devotion extended deeply into the spiritual realm, where he served faithfully as a pillar of the Anglican Church, Iloro-Ekiti. His life in the church was marked by consistent participation, financial support, and moral guidance. He exemplified Christian values in his interactions, and his opinions were held in high regard among church elders. His spirituality influenced the choices he made, the way he led, and the humility with which he carried himself.

Beyond service and leadership, Chief James was also a man of enterprise. He cultivated the land as a committed farmer, ran a beer parlor popularly known as People's Beer Parlour. He also engaged in pool betting promotion, a venture that added another dimension to his economic activities. Through these enterprises, he not only supported his household but also contributed to local commerce by creating spaces for social interaction and small-scale employment.

In his personal life, he stood as the patriarch of a large and vibrant family. He was married to three wives and blessed with eleven children, all of whom benefited from his values of discipline, education, unity, and moral uprightness. Despite the natural complexities of a large household, he managed his family with grace, fairness, and a deep sense of responsibility. His guidance shaped his children into individuals who carry forward his ideals of hard work and integrity.

By the time he passed away in 2003, Chief James Faleye Ala had already secured a place in the history and heart of Iloro-Ekiti. His legacy endures through the countless students he taught, the community he served, the Anglican Church he strengthened, the Ashiwaju title he defined, the businesses he built, and the family he nurtured. He lived not for personal glory but for collective upliftment. His life remains a beacon of what devotion, humility, and principled leadership can achieve. To remember him is to honor a man who gave everything for the progress of his people and left behind a legacy that continues to inspire generations. He was IDC chairman for years home branch of IPU National. He was a committed community leader

PROFILE OF CHIEF ISAAC ADARALEGBE OGUNMOLA (JP) (B.Sc. (Hons), MPA, CES, MIESA)

From the Genesis-in-brief

The Genesis:

The Man, Ogunmola Isaac Adaralegbe, was born in the popular Ogunmola Family of 'Ebi Aji' Dynasty of Oke-Owa Street, Iloro-Ekiti in Ijero Local Government Area of Ekiti State about 74 Years ago. It is remarkable to note that his late Mother – Chief (Mrs.) Lydia Bejide Ogunmola (Iya Onidiri) – a Virtuous Woman that one can always be proud of, hailed from Ile-Okun in Isalu Quarters, Iloro-Ekiti.

Educational Attainments:

'Daralegbe, as fondly called, started his childhood life with his parents and had his Primary Education at United Primary School, Ijurin/Iloro Ekiti between 1960 and 1966. He proceeded to St. John's Modern School, Iloro-Ekiti in January, 1968 and passed out in 1970. His three Years in the Secondary Modern School was through thick and thin; but he was able to survive it through the assistance of his Uncle, Chief Joseph Fagbamila of blessed memory. 'Daralegbe was made the School Senior Prefect of the School before he passed out in 1970. He proceeded again to African Church Comprehensive High School, Ikere-Ekiti (a School without failure) between 1971 and 1975. He was also made the Chapel Prefect of the School till the end of his course when he sat for his West African School Certificate Examinations and passed out in "Grade One" as being graded then.

Working Career:

'Daralegbe began his working career at his alma-mater, African Church Comprehensive High School, Ikere-Ekiti as an Accounts Clerk, having been recalled by his then Principal, late Chief Oyewole Jegede CON, to come and work in the School as a result of his brilliancy and academic excellence. He was later seconded to St. Louis Girls' Grammar School, Ikere-Ekiti, on request by the School's Principal, to come and assist in teaching Typewriting and English.

Having worked as untrained Teacher for a year, this young but very versatile man did not consider his teaching appointment at St. Louis Girls' Grammar School, Ikere-Ekiti as 'government work', hence in July 1976, he decided to go to Akure, being the State Capital then, to seek for what he referred to as 'government work'. He was lucky to have secured a Clerical Officer Job. Three months later, he was offered admission into the Ondo State Civil Service Training School, Akure for an in-service-training as Confidential Secretary. He completed his course in 1978 and was posted as Confidential Secretary. Through his dint of hard work, he was promoted as Personal Secretary to work with very highly placed Civil Servants, including Directors, Permanent Secretaries and the then Secretary to the State Government and Head of Service.

In pursuit of higher level in his chosen career, in 1989, he proceeded to Oyo State Staff Development Centre, Ibadan to train as Official Reporter. He passed out in 1990 and was transferred to Official Reporters' Cadre and posted to the Ondo State House of Assembly to work as an Official Reporter. As a result of his assiduity, he was appointed to serve as Personal Assistant to the Rt. Honourable Speaker of the House and later rose through the ranks to become a Deputy Editor before the creation of Ekiti State when he was seconded to the newly created Ekiti State in 1996.

In 1996, he was admitted at the Ondo State University for his B.Sc. in Business Administration, when he was of the opinion that he needed to further his educational career to enable him fix well into the public. He completed his First Degree in Year 2000 and subsequently enrolled for his Masters in Public Administration (MPA) which he equally completed in Year 2002.

On the creation of Ekiti State, being an experienced and seasoned Secretary, Ogunmola was invited by the newly appointed Secretary to the State Government and Head of Service (SSG & HS) for the new Ekiti State, now late Mr. Joshua Adeyeye Ibidunmoye, to come and serve as Personal Assistant, to enable him assist in setting up the SSG & HS' new Office,. Ogunmola assumed this new office in the new State and ensured that the Office of the Secretary to the State Government and Head of Service was set up and equipped to match that of any of his colleagues in other States of the Federation. He was in that Office for only two months when the then Military Administrator of Ekiti State, Lt. Col. Inua Bawa, requested for a more competent hand to work as his Civilian Personal Assistant. The mantle fell on no other person, other than Chief Adaralegbe Ogunmola, on the recommendation of the then Secretary to the State Government and Head of Service. He held this position from November, 1996 during the Bawa Military Regime to that of Yusuf Regime as well as the Civilian Governor Adebayo's Regime that lasted till May, 2003.

At the inception of a new Administration in the State in June, 2003, on his personal request, he was posted back to his base, the Ekiti State House of Assembly, having been trained as an Official Reporter. There, he was made the Deputy Director, Publications Department. Chief Ogunmola used to make his impact felt anywhere he finds himself. During the course of his duties in the House of Assembly, he wrote a book in Year 2005. The Book, titled "Rt. Hon. (Chief) Friday Aderemi – A Visionary Speaker" was written to eulogize Baba Aderemi for his exemplary leadership qualities when he was Speaker of the House. This quality and other loyal ethics in Chief Ogunmola was noticed by the erudite and indefatigable Clerk of the House then, Revd. Akintunde Famoyegun, who eventually recommended him for appointment as the Director of a newly created Printing & Technical Department of the House in September, 2008. He held this post till the 15th of November, 2011 when it became imperative that he should retire voluntarily from the Civil Service, having worked for 35 Years meritoriously without blemish, query or feud with anybody.

Community and Social Activities:

Chief Ogunmola, a man of high integrity, was elected as the Assistant National Secretary and later the National Secretary of Iloro-Ekiti Progressive Union (IPU) - the apex administrative organ of Iloro-Ekiti, and served for an upward of 17 Years before he was elected the National President of the Union (worldwide) in December, 2009. He remains the longest serving President of the Union, having served for 13 Years. During his tenure as the General Secretary of the Iloro-Ekiti Progressive Union, he wrote the book titled: THE LEGEND: HISTORY OF ILORO-EKITI and the book was published and widely circulated by the then Iloro-Ekiti Awareness Forum in Year 2000.

Chief 'Daralegbe Ogunmola (JP), a cool-headed, easy-going, accommodating and painstaking gentleman, is a great achiever. His achievements in Iloro-Ekiti as the National President of Iloro-Ekiti Progressive Union along with his crop of dogged Executive Members within their three-term tenure in Office speak volumes. In fact, they are evidences of his dedication, transparency, assiduity, and uprightness. He had, in addition to his fleet of achievements, touched the lives of many people positively including his regular assistance to the needy and securing employment for some of our indigenes into the Civil Service, both in the old Ondo State and Ekiti State.

He is presently a Member of the Nigerian Institute of Executive Secretaries and Administrators, Lagos. He is a member of the National Association of Hansards/Verbatim Reporters of Nigeria. He is a member of the Police/Community Relations Committee, Oke-Ila Zone, Ado-Ekiti. He was the President of the Premier Club, Iloro-Ekiti. He was a member of the then Iloro-Ekiti Awareness Forum, and presently a member of Iloro-Ekiti Progressive Union, Ado-Ekiti Branch.

Christian Life:

As a devoted Christian of the Anglican Communion, Chief Ogunmola has performed the Holy Pilgrimage to Jerusalem in the Holy Land of Israel. He was recognized and conferred with the Chieftaincy Title of The Balogun of St. James' Anglican Church, Iloro-Ekiti in Year 2007 and presently a member of the Church of Ascension (COA) Anglican Communion, Ado Ekiti. In fact, he was made the Chairman of the Building Committee of the Church of Ascension, Ado-Ekiti and served for many years. He is presently the Chairman of Group One of the Church. Chief Ogunmola, being a lover of Music, is at present the Choir Patron of both his Church at home (Iloro-Ekiti) as well as that of the Church of Ascension in Ado-Ekiti. He is a Patron to the Boys Brigade of the Church of Ascension, Ado-Ekiti. He is presently a Bishop's Nominee and Synod Delegate of his Church at home and a member of the Board of the Diocese of Ekiti West (Anglican Communion). He was a member of Opopogbooro Archdeaconry Board and a Synod Delegate for Ekiti Diocese (Anglican Communion) for six years. He was the People's Warden and Treasurer of the Church of Ascension, Ado-Ekiti for three Years.

Awards and Titles:

Chief Ogunmola has bagged many Awards and Titles, which include:

- Certified Executive Secretary (CES) by the Institute of Executive Secretaries and Administrators, Lagos in 1990.

PROFILE OF CHIEF RUFUS KAYODE ADEBO

The history of his generation may be thrown into a dustbin if his name Kayode Adebo isn't promiscuously glazed for others to read about and learn the rudiments of how to live a life devoid of blackmail.

Chief Kayode Adebo started life similar to that of his contemporaries but he decided to toil the path of a great leading light that eventually distinguished him from those colleagues of his, that started such paths together. He was able to achieve an uncommon progress and unceasing trademark as a result of his stand out commitments, dedication and perseverance.

He was born to the family of the popular Chief Akinleye and Mama Yeyewande Adebo of blessed memory on the 11th November 1945.

Like his contemporaries of his generation, he attended St. Michael's African church primary school as well as St. John's secondary modern school Iloro Ekiti.

As was the practice in those days, the young but very promisery Kayode Adebo couldn't go further in his studies but had to become a welding works apprentice in Osogbo between 1964 and 67. Immediately after , he left for Jos plateau State where he eventually become another star to watch in the trade of metal fabrication and general welding works.

As if he was the one that the entire populace had been expecting, he became a major player in the business and his business name Kayus Metal Works became the dominant identity to reckon with., especially in the then northern areas comprising of Plateau, Bauchi, Kaduna and few other northern areas of the country.

As Kayus Adebo was becoming very successful in his welding business, so also he was delving into other businesses. He later became the Chairman of Beachman Nig. Ltd, specializing in construction and building works. His dedication, commitment and humility equally contributed in no little measure to his great success in all his business endeavors.

Also, as an hotelier, Chief Kayode Adebo's story cannot complete without his contributions to the hotelling business especially. Immediately he established De- Link hotels in Ado Ekiti, he awakened the giants that lied fallow in other business moguls and they in droves, decided to go into hospitality business. Before he completed De Link hotel at his place of birth Iloro Ekiti, several hotels had sprung up in Ado Ekiti the state capital to add value to the state's clarion call for industrial development amongst others.

As a community leader, Chief Kayode Adebo's life was a beacon of hope to some of his friends, business associates and virtually all and sundry. He was a born natural leader who's life epitomizes humility, and natural flair for peace, stability and unity of not only his place of birth but virtually in all other places he found himself during his life time.

In his church at Dilimi Jos plateau State, he was the Baba Ijo of his church. Also the African church council and entire congregation of his childhood church: St Michaels Africa church Iloro Ekiti, conferred on him the Balogun Ijo title of the church on him considering his contributions to the great church.

One cannot forget easily his enormous contributions to his place of birth. Chief Adebo was respected by both old and young, men and women and his views, opinions and suggestions weren't taken for granted. He was a louder voice in the midst of Chiefs and Oba in council. His unwavering commitments towards having a totally balanced and hitch free cradle earned him the prestigious Sobaloju title of Iloro Ekiti. Just like a comet that came and disappeared shockingly, , Chief Kayode Adebo' passed on to the great beyond on July 1st 2012, .

His death was a big blow too hard to bear on people too many. His friends and associates, business men and women , family members and entire plateau and Ekiti States that he helped to realize during his lifetime, till date are missing the business mogul and high spirited philanthropist.

In all, the good name that Chief Kayode Adebo has put in place before taken his exit will forever speak for him. He facilitated Senior Police Training School, Along Ayetoro Road, to Iloro-Ekiti. He was IPU National President between 1997 -2000

PROFILE OF DR. LAWRENCE OLAWOLE AKANDE, FCA, PhD

Banking Executive | Pastor | Mentor | Community Builder

Dr. Lawrence Olawole Akande represents a rare convergence of corporate excellence, spiritual leadership, and community impact. A seasoned banking executive with over three decades of experience and a Pastor guided by faith and service, his life's work reflects lasting contributions to institutions, individuals, and society.

A Purpose Driven Leadership Journey

Dr. Akande's professional journey across Nigeria's financial services sector is defined by integrity, discipline, and results. Rising through the ranks of leading banking institutions, he earned a reputation as a trusted leader in credit management, enterprise risk, governance, and regional operations.

He most recently served as Executive Director, Finance, Risk & Compliance at NIRSAL Microfinance Bank, a Central Bank of Nigeria subsidiary. During his tenure, he provided strategic oversight for finance, risk, and compliance, strengthening governance frameworks, improving regulatory alignment, and reinforcing risk discipline in a systemically important development finance institution. Though he no longer serves with the bank, his contributions remain a significant chapter in its evolution.

Earlier, at Zenith Bank Plc, Dr. Akande built a distinguished legacy over more than two decades, culminating as Group Zonal Head, South West Nigeria. He led expansive regional operations, chaired regional credit committees, and drove sustainable growth anchored on strong corporate governance and risk management.

Building Institutions, Not Just Careers

Throughout his career, Dr. Akande distinguished himself as an institution builder. From internal control and audit to branch management, operations, treasury, and executive oversight, he strengthened systems, mentored teams, and embedded structures designed to endure beyond individual tenures.

His boardroom experience includes service as a Member of the Board of Directors of Obagayan Farms Nigeria Limited, a SMIES project financed by Zenith Bank Plc, underscoring his contribution to inclusive real-sector development.

Scholarship, Professional Excellence, and Global Perspective

Dr. Akande holds a PhD and M.Phil in Accounting from Obafemi Awolowo University, an MBA, and a B.Sc. in Accounting (Second Class Upper) from Ahmadu Bello University. He is a Fellow of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Nigeria (FCA) and a Fellow of the Institute of Credit Administration.

His leadership perspective is further enriched by executive education at Harvard Business School, Wharton, INSEAD, London Business School, Imperial College London, and Cambridge Judge Business School, giving him a global outlook firmly grounded in local realities.

Faith, Service, and Community Impact

Beyond corporate leadership, Pastor Dr. Akande is widely respected for his faith driven commitment to service and empowerment. His leadership philosophy is shaped by Christian values of integrity, compassion, and stewardship.

Across the institutions where he served, he consistently supported qualified indigenes of Iloro Ekiti through mentorship, career guidance, and facilitation of employment opportunities always insisting on merit, competence, and preparedness.

He also played a pivotal role in facilitating access to single digit interest loans for hundreds of Iloro Ekiti indigenes, enabling farmers, traders, and small business owners to grow their enterprises, create jobs, and achieve financial stability.

In addition, Dr. Akande was instrumental in influencing the establishment of NIRSAL Microfinance Bank operations in Iloro Ekiti, significantly improving access to development finance in the community at the time. Although the branch has since been closed, its impact remains part of his enduring contribution to financial inclusion.

Recognition Beyond Titles

In recognition of his integrity, leadership, and contributions to society, a street in Lekki Phase 1, Lagos State, bears his name a rare honour that reflects the respect he commands beyond the corporate and religious spheres, and a lasting testament to a life of service and impact.

Mentorship, Ministry, and People Development

Dr. Akande remains deeply committed to mentorship and leadership development. Over the years, he has facilitated leadership training programs, staff induction courses, and recruitment exercises. As a Pastor, he extends this mentoring spirit beyond the workplace offering counsel, guidance, and values based leadership that shapes lives and careers.

His philosophy is captured in his belief that:

> Leadership is a calling—to serve God by serving people, and to create opportunities that outlive one's tenure.

A Life Anchored in Values

Born in Iloro Ekiti, Ekiti State, Dr. Akande remains grounded in humility, discipline, and faith. A devoted family man, he exemplifies balance between professional excellence, spiritual leadership, and community responsibility.

An Enduring Legacy

Dr. Lawrence Olawole Akande's legacy is defined not by titles alone, but by institutions strengthened, careers launched, businesses empowered, faith nurtured, and communities uplifted.

He stands as a powerful example of values driven leadership one whose influence continues to resonate across Nigeria's financial, spiritual, and social landscapes.
